Emma Fauskanger

Emma began playing the trumpet at the age of seven and quickly developed a natural connection with the instrument. She joined her local wind band, where she played for four years and gained valuable ensemble experience at an early stage.

She currently studies trumpet at Drammen School of Music and Performing Arts and has been part of the school's Talent Development Programme for the past 1.5 years. Through this programme she continues to refine her sound, technique, and musical expression.

Emma is passionate about both solo performance and chamber music. She values the close musical dialogue, attentive listening, and shared responsibility that chamber music requires, while also exploring the expressive possibilities of the trumpet as a solo instrument. Her playing is recognised for its warm tone and musical sensitivity. 🎺
