Leonid Anikin was born in Yekaterinburg, Russia, in 2001. At the age of five started studying music at the Ural College of Music as a violinist in the class of Marina Loginovskaya. Then, In 2010, he went to Svetlana Onuchina's class.

Nowadays Leonid is studying in Belgium in «Institute Royal Supérieur de Musique et de Pédagogie» in the class of professor Igor Tkachouk.

He also learn the baroque violin in the class of professor François Fernandez.

Leonid studied with such maestros as Boris Kushnir, Maxim Fedotov, Mikhail Gantvarg, Valentin Zhuk, Rollo Kovac.

Since 2019 - Leonid is a soloist of Saint-Petersburg House of Music. Worked as a soloist with many well-known conductors such as Misha Katz, Alim Shakh, Wolf Usminsky, Anton Shaburov.

Took part in festivals such as Ural Music Night (Ekaterinburg 2018, 2019), and concerts organized by Saint-Petersburg house of Music all over the world.

Leonid Anikin is a prizewinner of many international competitions such as «Grumiaux competition 2019», Belgium Brussels.