

Daniel Xia Biography

Swedish pianist Daniel Xia is a musician of great versatility: as a soloist he has performed and broadcast on national radio with orchestras such as the Swedish Radio Symphony Orchestra and the Gothenburg Symphony Orchestra, and he regularly appears at festivals both in Sweden and abroad. A passionate chamber musician, Daniel has worked and performed widely with both instrumentalists and singers, and in 2018 and 2020 his piano quintet was selected as a summer season in-house artist at Konserthuset Stockholm. Daniel also has experience as an orchestra pianist and celesta player . Daniel actively composes his own original music as well as cadenzas for Mozart piano concertos, and transcribes orchestral pieces for piano. In September 2020 Daniel started his first year of piano studies with Vanessa Latache at the Royal College of Music in London . Daniel has participated in masterclasses by Angela Hewitt, Andrzej Jasiński , Tamara Poddubnaya , Mats Widlund and Peter Donohoe.
