

Joshua Flores is a saxophonist from the United States and is currently a first-year university student, pursuing a Bachelor's degree in saxophone performance at Indiana University Jacobs School of Music under world-renowned saxophonist Dr. Otis Murphy. He is a winner of national and state level competitions, leading him to perform as a soloist in places such as New York City, Washington D.C, Miami, Houston, and Dallas.

Joshua is also very passionate about chamber music. During his tenure in the Overtone Saxophone Quartet they have advanced to the semi-finals of the junior division in the Fischhoff Chamber Music Competition, and they have also advanced to become finalists in the junior division of the Coltman Chamber Music Competition as well.