

Allan d'Orlan de Polignac, born on the 20 October 2006 in Antibes, started his musical studies at the age of five at the Antibes music conservatory in Delphine Bautz's piano class. Cadet of a musician brotherhood and passionate about classical music, it is always a pleasure for him to discover new musical pieces and to share them with the public.

In 2017, he won the Steinway concours in Cannes and arrived second the following year. He also won the Concours Musical de France.

He has been performing for years now at the printemps des arts of Monaco.

All his performances will take him to Germany.

In 2020, he finished his curriculum in the Antibes Conservatory for which he has been awarded by the gold medal.

In 2022, at the age of 15, he is currently studying to obtain his DEM at the conservatory of Nice in Thomopoulos Stephanos's class.

