

Sophia Acevedo was born in Miami, Florida, United States. She showed a strong inclination and curiosity for the piano from age three and a half. Her first piano was a toy keyboard with batteries; before her parents realized it, she played melodies with it. Recognizing her talent and passion, her parents felt the need to provide her with formal training to nurture her development as a pianist.

Sophia is diligent and hardworking and a good student in 6th grade. She loves challenges and exhibits a strong work ethic, always striving to achieve her goals. Her dedication and perseverance are remarkable, as she tirelessly puts in the effort required to accomplish her musical aspirations.