

Name: Junyi Wang

Age: 14

Nationality: Chinese

Junyi Wang is a 14-year-old girl from Shanghai who began learning piano from her mother at the age of 4. Her exceptional talent in playing the piano was first recognized at the age of 5, when she won the Gold Award at the Xuhui District Piano Competition for Children. Since then, Junyi has achieved remarkable success in several major competitions, including winning Second Prize at the Singapore International Piano Competition for Children in 2015 and three First Prizes in 2016.

In 2017, Junyi received her first international recognition by winning Second Prize in the 63rd Grotrian International Piano Competition in Hannover, Germany. The following year brought yet more awards, including First Prize in the China-Germany Piano Invitational Piano Competition Shanghai finals, Gold Medal in Shanghai division of the Chopin International Junior Piano Open Competition, Second Prize in the China-US International Piano Competition (no first prize awarded), and a Special Prize in the China-Russia International Invitational Piano Competition.

Despite the challenges of the pandemic over the past three years, Junyi has persevered with her diligent piano practice. In fact, she even participated in the "National Beethoven 250th Anniversary Piano Charity Competition," where she received the Best Performance Award.

Junyi Wang's impressive achievements speak volumes about her talent and dedication to music. She hopes to continue sharing her passion for music with others and is excited to participate in the Tenth Stockholm International Music Competition.
