

Born in Sweden but presently residing in the USA, Linnea Turesson studies violin with Sophie Davis at the Bay Chamber Music School in Maine. Linnea has been selected for masterclasses with internationally acclaimed musicians including Midori, Sibbe Bernhardsson and Melissa Reardon among others. Linnea has been a prizewinner in several international competitions including first prize at the Canadian International Music Competition in 2023. Linnea's other interests include alpine ski racing, tennis and enjoying long meals with family and friends. Linnea has been studying violin for three and one-half years.