

Chu Zixiang, born in Wuhu, Anhui in 2003, has been fond of music since childhood. He started playing the oboe under the guidance of Professor Tao Jin from Anhui Normal University and later under the guidance of renowned oboe educator Professor Sun Minghong from Shanghai Conservatory of Music. In 2020, he was admitted to Zhejiang Conservatory of Music with the highest professional score in the province and under the guidance of Professor Yu Xiaorui. During his time at school, he participated in several oboe master classes such as Wuhan Conservatory of Music and Stuttgart University of Music and Art in Germany, In 2021, I was admitted to the Zhejiang Conservatory of Music Symphony Orchestra. In 2022, as an outstanding student representative, I went to the Liseo Conservatory of Music in Barcelona, Spain for exchange and study.