

At the age of four, I moved with my parents from Ukraine to Latvia. My mother is a pianist and music in our family is an integral part of our life. When I was five years old, my parents took me to the music school. I am really happy that when I was a small child, I chose exactly the violin. I have two younger brothers – one of them plays alto saxophone, the other, although he is still very small, is able very accurately imitate melodies with his voice. I believe that violin helps me to develop patience and the ability to reach my goals. Every year I participate in different musical events and competitions in Latvia. I also play in music secondary school strings ensemble.
